*Build trust, respect & confidence
Really connect with your horse.
Be assertive without being aggressive*

If you've hesitated to take a clinic because you felt intimidated or 'not good enough', this is the clinic for you

No big groups. No intimidation.

It's just you, your horse and Anne Gage. This clinic focuses specifically on what you and your horse need to feel confident and connected.

You can build your confidence, improve your performance, address behavioural or training issues. You can focus on ground work, riding or both - it's all up to you.

The clinic is in a lesson format. Book private or semi private sessions. Take a single lesson on one day or multiple lessons over all 3 days. It's up to you.

Here is what one participant has to say about this Confident Horsemanship clinic:

"LOVE Anne Gage clinics! Anne takes great care to make sure that the rider understands the instruction and also acquires knowledge of how things should FEEL when done correctly. She establishes a solid base for continuing the work at home. We had a fab time - all I can say is WOW! Anne has a wonderful eye and not much (like nothing over the 3 days) gets by her. She is a gifted coach." ~ F. Salsman, Digby, NS
